God bless America, land that I love.

Lest We Forget

This weekend is remembered by Americans in honor of those who have served our nation and those who have died in service to others. It is a national day, set aside to pause from our routine and remember. We build stone and metal monuments, “Lest We Forget!” We want our children to see them and ask, “What does this mean?” Then we can tell them our history. Remember the statement, “Those who do not know history are doomed to repeat it!”? God too wanted His people to remember what he had done for them. He wanted them to teach their children about God. So, no idols, but monuments to remind us to teach the next generation. This is the role of parents.

We today are reminded of the price of war, and we want to be serious before we go to war. But we have not done a good job of teaching our young generations “Why,” or “What.” We absolutely must not forget who we are, nor what God has done for us as a nation, nor as a people.

Every week we come together to “remember.” We want our children to see what we do, and to see the memorial, so they will ask, “What does this mean?” Then we can teach them of Jesus and what God has done for us. If we do not do this we will soon forget. So, let us weekly raise the monument of Christ, Lest We Forget!
